

GOVERNMENT WINS BATTLE FOR OIL LAND

Supreme Court Approves the Cancellation of Southern Pacific Patents for 6000 Acres Worth $10,000,000

Under Decision Rich Petrol Fields in Kern County Will Be Included in the Naval Oil Reserve District No. 1

The government by an opinion today in the supreme court won its fight to have cancelled patents for 6000 acres of California oil land valued at $10,000,000 alleged to have been obtained through fraud by the Southern Pacific company.

In disposing of the case the supreme court reversed federal court decrees dismissing proceedings instituted by the government to have the land, which is located within naval oil reserve No. 1, returned to the government.

The government charged that the agents of the road swore falsely to obtain title to the disputed lands contrary to act of congress which granted the road certain sections of land provided they did not contain minerals.

The road answered that its agents had no way of knowing that the lands contained and questioned whether the oil was mineral within the meaning of the act.

MOTHER WINS HOTALING WILL CASE VERDICT

Million-Dollar Share in Estate Won by Mrs. Hotaling From Her Son Richard by Verdict of Superior Judge Hunt

2500 Shares of Stock Claimed Transferred to Shut Out Another Son From Estate Ordered Returned by Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Superior Judge John Hunt today rendered a verdict for Mrs. Lavina J. Hotaling whereby she wins back from her son Richard Hotaling her share of $1,000,000 in the Hotaling Estate company.

The property consists of 2500 shares of stock in the company. Hotaling claimed this stock was transferred to him by his mother in 1913 on the alleged ground that she wished so to arrange matters that another son, Frederick Hotaling, could not share in her vast wealth.

Mrs. Hotaling, during testimony at the trial, said her will and purpose merely had been to place her wealth in safe keeping and that she never had planned to give it away.

Wilson Will Pocket Pact If Lodge Wins

Adoption of Fifteenth Majority Reservation Will Mean End of Peace Treaty, is the Word From White House

President Directs Administration Supporters to Vote Against Resolution of Ratification Now Before Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The blanket reservation of the foreign relations committee to preclude the jurisdiction of the League of Nations matters affecting "honor or vital interests" of the United States, was defeated today in the Senate.

The reservation, which is on the combined list, was rejected by the combined votes of administration Democrats and the mild reservation Republicans, 56 to 36.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Wilson will "pocket" the treaty if the Lodge resolution of ratification is passed by the Senate.

The President made this statement to Senator Hitchcock today in a conference. The announcement was by Senator Hitchcock on leaving the White House.

Adoption of the fifteenth majority reservation will mean the end of the treaty, it was stated at the White House today. It was expected that the administration would make a hard fight against this reservation and would offer compromise for other reservations if this was defeated.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, called at the White House today and stated that he would support the resolution of ratification, acceptable to the administration would finally be adopted.

After that is done we will offer a few more reservations," Underwood declared. He predicted that the resolution of ratification, acceptable to the administration would finally be adopted.

However, if the administration senators do not succeed in defeating the first resolution the President will sign the whole package and ignore it.

Hitchcock said he found Wilson much improved. He is standing pat on his contention that the League of Nations is a "pact with monsters."

This was in answer to the suggestion that the opposition might prevent a new resolution of ratification if the first one is rejected.

"The Republicans," Underwood asserted, "will not take the responsibility for killing the treaty."

The foreign relations committee reservation excluding the United States from any responsibility in regard to disposition of the German colonies was rejected today by the Senate.

The reservation, which was the first of the committee group to be defeated, failed to command the support of the mild reservation Republicans and also the opposition of some of the Republican irreconcilables in addition to the administration Democrats.

EASTBAY WOMEN ORGANIZE TO CUT HIGH FOOD PRICES

Oakland housewives organized this afternoon to combat the high cost of living. A body of them met in the Oakland City Hall to discuss the situation in reducing to a normal or at least possible basis the necessary foodstuffs and to inaugurate an active campaign in protesting a continued rise in bread, eggs, butter and milk. This afternoon's conference was but preliminary to a city-wide organization which will be effected among the housewives and purchasers of foodstuffs, similar to those already in operation in other California cities.

"Bake your own bread" is a slogan which will be designed to meet the rise in the price of breadstuffs. It was urged upon women that they save a large percent where they did their own baking. Where bread was purchased from bakers, it was suggested that only those concerns which offered it at the old price be patronized and that the reason for the patronage be explained with the purchase.

A large representation from the Berkeley Housewives' League and from the Alameda Anti-High Cost of Living Committee were present at this afternoon's meeting. Directors of the league are already discussing plans for the conduct of co-operative stores for the sale of farm produce at approximate cost. Berkeley women have started investigations in the egg situation. Mrs. M. E. Jaffa has presented figures which show that due to the high cost the sale of eggs is below normal for this time of year. Before a boycott is declared by the Berkeley housewives a thorough survey of contributing causes, as for instance the matter of feed and its cost, will be made. The committee report will be heard on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the council chamber of the Berkeley City Hall.

San Francisco society women without organizing are beating the high cost of living by going into the business on an extensive scale and supplying their tables from their own back yards. Eggs at a dollar a dozen has inspired the transformation of the former flower gardens to the best results. Among those who have acquired a flock of feathered pets who are contributing to the conservation of the pocket books of society leaders are: Mrs. James L. Flood, Mrs. Jerome K. Landfield, Mrs. Fretwell Cobb Hale, Mrs. Herbert Moffitt, Mrs. Stuart Edward White, Mrs. Barbara Parrott.

The women have from eight hens up and new-laid eggs for their breakfast table.

nounced for tomorrow night in the theater of the Municipal Auditorium. Officers of the legion said that its activity in leading the move against the revolutionary elements had resulted in almost doubling the membership of the post.

Resolutions will be adopted tomorrow night, according to the announced plans, asking for further authority by the city and county authorities in the suppression of the criminally inclined radicals and pledging the moral, physical and financial support of the post. Selection of an American legion jury to sit informally in the trial in the superior court of James McHugo, charged with criminal syndicalism, also will be discussed. The famed U. S. naval jazz band of twenty-five former enlisted men in the navy, appearing this week at the Orpheum theater, will open the legion's meeting. Captain Walter J. Petersen, president of the Oakland post, will preside tomorrow night. He has just returned from the national convention of the legion in Minneapolis, where he was made a member of the executive committee of the national organization.

Worshiper Rebuked For Defending Reds

J. W. Phillips, prominent officer of the First Congregational church, volunteered it need be to organize a corps of citizen soldiers to defend the American flag, following an exciting debate last night which concluded the evening service. Phillips took up the cudgels against a score of rude protesters who, protesting woman socialist whose identity was not disclosed, all of whom offered objection to the action of the American Legion in attacking the headquarters of the radicals of J. W. W.C.

An open discussion was held following the regular services in which debate of his sermon was invited by Rev. Francis J. Van Horn. The subject last night was "Darker Days—Disaster Threatens America?" The sermon concluded a series of some four or five which had to do with current problems relating to labor, strikes and unrest. The L. V. W. movement was recognized last night. The minister reviewed its rise and growth in this country.

Twenty male voices thundered back "No." Following the benediction during the fifteen minutes which was allotted for free discussion, a woman who announced herself a socialist declared that the American Legion in pursuing its policy was abridging the guarantee of free speech and that it was contrary to the principles of Christian religion and the teachings of Christ.

"I will permit no men or set of men to insult the American flag," shouted Phillips springing to his feet. "If need be I will organize a corps of men to defend the only banner to which we can pay our allegiance. We will never permit it to be shrouded in red. The United States knows but one flag and that is the stars and stripes. We will never permit it to be sullied."

Misses' and Women's SUITS
Sensationally Reduced!

There's no denying the fact that women have been holding off from buying suits—due to prices. We admit that prices have been high—a condition beyond the control of retail stores. But we have the suits—and we'd much rather YOU had them. Therefore we propose to reduce the stock by at least 125 suits—at prices that are truly far below their real worth.

All this season's suits—tailored, fancy tailored, many fur trimmed, and novelties. Their materials are serges, velours, tricotines, silvertones, broadcloths, mixtures and velour checks. Colors—navy, black, brown, taupe, Pekin, rookie, reindeer, plum. Sizes—14, 16, 18 for misses; 36 to 44 for women; 46 to 53 for stout women.

Bread Facts

The report of the Sealer of Weights and Measures of the City and County of San Francisco, in a report submitted to the Mayor's Special Food Committee, shows:

That since the pre-war period, ingredients entering into the making of bread have advanced 150% while wages have advanced 87½%. And yet at the present price, the 16 oz. loaf of bread of the same quality as pre-war times, has increased only 80%, and the 24 oz. loaf only 70%.

That first quality bread prices are not still higher is due to improvements in baking plant equipment and the bakers absorbing part of the increase in production cost.

It doesn't take a lot of money to get good tea. What it takes is knowledge.

Common tea is full of tannin—nobody wants that. The little tea-flavor it has is a coarse vegetable taste—very few want that. And you can't get any kind of strength without bringing out the tannin.

Fine tea is rich in tea-flavor and has very little tannin. It takes very little tea to get all the strength you want.

Fine tea, like Schilling's, is the most economical.

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon-India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In parchment-lined moisture-proof packages. At grocers everywhere.

ALL DALMATIA COAST UNDER RULE OF POET

FUME, Sunday, Nov. 16 (By the Associated Press).—Gabriele D'Annunzio's latest exploit appears to have made him master of the entire Dalmatian coast.

It secured the adherence to his side, it has developed, of Admiral Millo, commander of the Italian occupation forces in Dalmatia, thus giving D'Annunzio a continuous command from the Austro-Italian armistice line north of Fiume, southward to Ragusa, just to the north of Cattaro, covering all the approaches to the Dalmatian coast. Four warships, including a dreadnaught and four torpedo-boat destroyers, have been added to the D'Annunzio naval command, giving him a formidable weapon with which to maintain his present position.

Admiral Millo, Italian commander of the Dalmatian occupation forces, who has gone over to the cause of D'Annunzio, declares that not one Italian soldier will leave soil included in the pact of London.

Admiral Millo wrote to Premier Mussolini, informing him of his action. The premier replied: "I am not astonished at the latest D'Annunzio enterprise. However, I am sorry for your action." It is announced that D'Annunzio will occupy all of Istria, including the sections Foreign Minister Tittoni proposes shall comprise an independent state.

D'Annunzio returned here this evening from his expedition to Zara, on the Dalmatian coast. His arrival was the occasion for an enthusiastic demonstration.

Geo. Archibald, Oakland Jockey, Seriously Hurt in Madrid Race

Injuries Received for Former Emeryville Favorite May Result Fatally

George Archibald, jockey of international fame, whose life has been one round of thrills and adventures since first he rode the stirrups on the old Emeryville race track, lies today in a hospital just out of Madrid, Spain, battling for life against serious injuries received at the Castellana grounds.

In the grandstand, watching the Oakland jockey match his skill and his mount's speed against the best racers of Spain, sat his wife and his mother. They saw his horse lose footing in the rack as the racers came to a curve, collide with a rail fence and send the jockey hurtling to the ground.

The horse was killed and Archibald's injuries may prove fatal, according to a cable received by The TRIBUNE today from Madrid. Archibald was born in Oakland. From his earliest youth he liked to be around horses, and so when the time came for him to ride at the Emeryville track he had a knowledge of his mounts that enabled him, together with his quickness, skill and intuitive racing ability, to win a celebrity's place in short order.

When the war broke out Archibald was riding in Germany, where he had been a favorite for years. Because of his American citizenship, he was barred from further participation. He went to Austria, where he reported himself well received.

Later he was given a special permit to ride in Germany in the Grand Prix. His mount was Baron von Oppenheim's Dolman.

His mother, Mrs. J. C. Archibald, lived at 604 Fifty-sixth street, Oakland, until leaving four months ago to join her son.

Mrs. Frank Lee, 604 Fifty-sixth street, a sister of Archibald, had heard nothing today of the jockey's condition.

NRS. GEORGE ARCHIBALD, who saw her husband injured in Spain, today, and the Oakland jockey.

Veteran, 80, Urges 'Mile High' Flight

Notwithstanding his 80 years and the fact that he is a veteran of the Civil War, T. J. Kist, who took his first aerial flight at the Durant aviation field yesterday afternoon, asked Lieutenant F. E. Harding, the pilot, to take him up "a mile high," as he wanted to reach a higher altitude than Joseph Warrington, an 8-year-old school boy, who ascended at the same time in a plane piloted by Samuel Pickup.

Lieutenant Harding thought it best not to take the veteran too high, so he maintained an altitude of 2500 feet, while Pickup took his passenger up 3000 feet. Upon reaching the ground and learning that the boy had gone up 500 feet higher than he had, the veteran was plainly chagrined. Kist said "the higher we raised him up I liked it."

Kist lives at 7 Harvard road and is father-in-law of Perry McKnight, automobile man, and young Warrington is a son of A. L. Warrington, 3852 Beaumont street.

THREE MEN ARE SHOT IN RESORT

VALLEJO, Nov. 17.—Three men were shot last night in a mix-up at a resort several miles from Vallejo. They are Larry Monreal, proprietor, Charles Denio and Stewart Reynolds. The shooting is said to have been done by unknown parties who came accompanied by women, and who fled following the shooting.

Doctors reported today that Denio may die. The bullet entered the abdomen and emerged at the back. He is a young ranchman here.

Monreal and Reynolds were seriously shot, but will recover. The former is shot through the groin and the latter through the left hip, which is broken. Monreal is at his home and the others are at a local hospital. Denio is a rancher near here and Stewart lives in Vallejo.

Between 10:20 and 11 o'clock Denio and Stewart went to the resort with their wives. They report that the other party, consisting of two men and two women, came in and tried to intrude upon their party. The shooting followed in the ensuing quarrel. Monreal was shot when he tried to interfere. The men who did the shooting and their women then fled in an automobile.

Sheriff J. J. McDonald, who is investigating, believes the offenders are Vallejo men.

France Answers Radical Challenges by Sweeping Defeat of Reds at Polls

PARIS, Nov. 17.—France has replied to the Bolshevik challenge with a sweeping defeat of radical candidates.

Returns up to 2:40 o'clock this afternoon from yesterday's elections for the Chamber of Deputies, covering about one-third of the total vote cast, showed the radicals have lost ground throughout the republic.

Results from 27 districts showed Republicans had won ten seats, Democrats nine, and Liberals ten. Radicals lost 17 seats, Socialists 10 and Conservatives 2, the early returns showed.

M. Franklin-Thomas, chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Chamber of Deputies, has been declared a Radical. He had advocated cession of all territory to the west bank of the Rhine to France. Albert Thomas, Paris President Wilson lived during the early sessions of the peace conference, have been elected, early reports indicated.

Leonard Daudet, son of the famous novelist, has been elected, it was declared, this afternoon. Daudet's charges resulted in the Bolo Pasha-Caillaux scandal.

Former Premier Poincaré also has been elected.

Everybody knows that clean, white teeth make any man, woman or child better looking—and that discolored, decayed and broken teeth make people less attractive.

Registered dentists using the E. R. Parker System are doing all they can to spread the gospel of good teeth. They invite everybody to visit a Parker System office and have their teeth examined; free of charge and without obligation. Visitors are shown how their appearance can be improved by having the teeth properly cared for. They are told how modern dental science has removed the fear of pain. They are shown how the efficiency methods of the E. R. Parker System make moderate prices for fine dentistry possible. And they are told exactly what the price will be for whatever dental work they may need.

Since it costs nothing to find out the condition of your teeth, why not do it—right away?

THIS MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

Both Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Steele, Ala.—"During the Change of Life I had hot flashes, was nervous, run down, and had sick headaches for two or three days at a time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am much stronger and better in every way than I was. My daughter's health broke down last June from teaching school without a rest, and she has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Blood Medicine with good results. She is much better and teaching now and I give your medicine the praise. You are welcome to use this letter for the benefit of other suffering women."—Mrs. F. A. GARNES, R. R. No. 1, Steele, Ala.

Women who suffer as Mrs. GARNES did should not hesitate to give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, as the evidence that is constantly being published proves beyond question that this grand old remedy has relieved much suffering among women.

Just two letters—and a harmless hyphen—but they stand for the quenching of millions of thirsts!

"ONLY ONE THING BREAKS MY COLD!"

"That's Dr. King's New Discovery for fifty years a cold-breaker."

NOTHING but sustained quality and unflinching effectiveness can arouse such enthusiasm. Nothing but sure relief from stubborn colds and crushing new ones, gripe, throat-tearing coughs, and croup could have made Dr. King's New Discovery the nationally popular and standard remedy it is today.

Fifty years old and always reliable. Good for the whole family. A bottle in the medicine cabinet means a short-lived cold or cough. 60c and $1.20. All druggists.

REGULAR BOWELS IS HEALTH

Bowels that move spasmodically—free one day and stubborn the next—should be healthfully regulated by Dr. King's New Life Pills. In this way you keep the impurities of waste matter from circulating through the system by cleansing the bowels thoroughly and promoting the proper flow of bile.

Mild, comfortable, yet always reliable, Dr. King's New Life Pills work with precision without the constipation results of violent purgatives. 25c as usual at all druggists.—Advertisement.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a clogged liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c.

DAVIE OPPOSES PARK PROJECTS

Setting forth his opposition to the City Council appropriating funds for the purchase this year of the Sather Park and Tresle Glen tracts as public parks, Mayor John L. Davie this morning filed with the council a long rehearsal of the park projects and recommended that a bond issue be placed on the ballot at the next city election in 1921, so that the voters may decide on the purchase. The communication and suggestion were filed without comment by the Council.

The application of the Park Terminal Company for extensions of time for the completion of improvements required in their lease of waterfront property was called for decision before the council this morning and again postponed for decision for three days.

An ordinance preventing merchants and business men from allowing refuse from their places of business to be dumped in gutters and in the streets, was given first and second reading this morning. The council was asked this morning by members of the Glenview Women's Club to provide a special traffic officer for Park Boulevard.

Benefit Bazaar to Be Held by Church

The members of St. John's Episcopal church will hold a benefit bazaar for two days, beginning tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in the hall at 591 Fifteenth street. Home-made articles will be sold and tea served every afternoon. A dinner will be given Wednesday evening.

Those in charge of the booths are as follows:
Mrs. D. T. Muir, apron booth; Mrs. Charles Dierke, delicatessen; Mrs. F. T. Jackson and Misses Lake, refreshments; Mrs. Charles Baker, mysteries; Mrs. Charles Jackson and Mrs. May Gonzales, candy; Mrs. F. Delisle, Mrs. F. H. Martin and Mrs. H. Getty, girls' club booth, and Mrs. Musser and Mrs. Stephenson, rugs.

Police Dean Hurt in Auto Collision

Officer G. J. Ely, 59 years old, of Northern Station, "Dean of the Oakland police," is recovering today from injuries sustained when his horse and buggy was run down by an automobile at Thirty-fourth and Peralta streets, Saturday night.

The machine struck Officer Ely's buggy in the rear, throwing the driver to the ground. Several stitches were taken in one ear and lacerations of the face were treated. Confident that he was not injured seriously the "Dean" proceeded home, not taking the name of the autoist. He is off duty today, treating his hurts.

Sky Laws of N. Y. Urged As Model for Oakland's Airplane Traffic Rules

At last, the "Rules of the Air." Long have the comic cartoonists scoffed, the jolly diners joked, the legal lights scoffed upon the day when "traffic cops" would rule the zephyr lanes.

Ye artist's jocular pen pictured the "right of way" signals in the airy spaces, the aerial sheriff hounding the tramp aviator on his way to avoid loitering at corners and difficulties of swooping unless the pilot dodge behind the clouds.

Last week the first "tramp" airplane glided to harbor on San Francisco bay two months ago aerial honeymoons became a fact and now the traffic rules are here.

"Cliff" Durant, of the Durant Airplane Corporation has submitted a set of regulations to Commissioners of Public Health and Safety F. F. Morse and Sheriff Francis Barnett. These officials in turn will submit the rules to city and county legal authorities for revision. They are modeled after those recently put into effect in New York City.

Rights of way, passing rules and landing regulations are covered in detail. One item is missing, however, a speed limit. There is no proposal to stop the air speeder. The other is free to the fastest of the fast. Heavier than air ships when approaching each other end on and thereby running the risk of collision must always steer to the right or one of the provisions. They must keep 300 feet apart, so handshakes on the way to work or passing a "wee nip" on a frosty morning will be against the law.

Any aircraft overtaking another is responsible for keeping clear and must pass 1000 feet to the left or 300 feet to the right and must not go directly over or under overtaken aircraft.

When aircraft are approaching at right angles the ship which sees the other on its right must give way, the other holding its course or passing under.

A forced landing holds all rights to air or landing fees. In flying over a city, airplanes must keep an altitude of 2000 feet over buildings and 1000 feet over air parks and water.

No stunts must be attempted under an altitude of 2000 feet, and are to be limited to air directly above landing fields or water.

The rules prohibit the carrying of explosives. Durant's communication urges the appointment in each State of a commission for enforcement of aerial registration, similar to that now relating to automobiles.

ARMISTICE DAY PARADE SHOWN IN KINEMA FILM

The Armistice Day parade in Oakland, in which thousands of returned soldiers marched, was filmed by the Tribune-Kinema Weekly and is now playing at the Kinema. Practically every branch of the service and of auxiliary organizations for war work were included in the parade and veterans of the Civil War and the Spanish-American War marched side by side with men just home from France.

The cadet bands from the High Schools of Oakland provided the musical features of the parade. Classes in esthetic dancing and other recreation work at the California State School for the Deaf and Blind in Berkeley is another feature of the weekly.

Theft of License for Auto Puzzling

Mystery is connected with the theft of a California license plate from the machine of L. W. Moon, 3851 San Juan avenue, within the past 48 hours.

The object of the thief in stealing the plate, numbered 45912, is unknown to the police or the owner. Working on the theory that burglary or other crime is contemplated, an earnest search is being made for the license.

Man Joins Officer in Hunt for Self

The most obliging prisoner in Oakland is James Spillman, erstwhile porter at the Key Route Inn, according to police inspector John Gannaw.

Spillman, who is now held for failure to provide for a wife in San Francisco, hunted for himself with Gannaw bringing up in the rear for the space of an hour yesterday.

Gannaw inquired where Spillman would "help you find him," said Spillman.

Down in the cellar, up in an attic, down the fire escapes and finally through the dining room. "Guess the party is out," said Spillman. Then Spillman darted through an open window. Light dawned on the wily police detective.

What We Learn from New Orleans' Creoles About Better Baking

Brer Rabbit—this is the lesson.

You must have real New Orleans Molasses for old fashion gingerbread or real Southern plantation molasses cake.

Years ago you had to send down South to get real New Orleans Molasses. Today you ask your grocer for a can of BRER RABBIT. It's the best New Orleans Molasses you can buy anywhere. It is absolutely pure Molasses, selected for its delicious, wholesome flavor. Your grocer sells two grades of BRER RABBIT. The GOLD LABEL is the finest for high-grade cooking and baking—the kind for pan-cakes, waffles, biscuits and sliced bread for children.

He also sells Green Label BRER RABBIT. This is a specially selected molasses for cooking and baking—and costs less.

BETCHEL'S CASE IS OFF CALENDAR

Failure of the police, or anyone else interested, to file a complaint against Stephen D. Betchel, University of California student, booked by the Oakland police on a manslaughter charge, today caused the case to be stricken from the docket in Police Judge Smith's court.

Betchel's car crashed into Dr. H. G. Chappel, Oakland dentist, Mrs. Jessie Chappel and Elizabeth Chappel, their daughter, causing the death of mother and daughter and serious injury of Dr. Chappel, who is now under the care of a physician.

The accident happened at Moss and Broadway, after the Chappels had stepped off a street car and were crossing Broadway to the sidewalk.

Young Betchel's car skidded 136 feet after the collision. The machine was filled with university students, going to a dance at Claremont country club.

According to evidence in the hands of the police, young Betchel was driving over the 20-mile speed limit at Moss and Broadway. He admitted going from 30 to 35 miles an hour.

Burglar Flees When His Victim Screams

Sounds of a creeping, crawling burglar at the witching midnight hour. Ever so slight, yet discernible to T. K. Schaffer, 1234 Myrtle street.

"Hey, you, get out of my house," the brave owner shouted. Sounds of a burglar—loud, crashing and thunderous sounds this time. For the visitor dived through a window, glass and all.

Loss—nothing.

Charges Accident Ruined Her Career

Declaring the possibilities for her career as a successful business woman have been ruined, as well as her prospect of a long and happy life and her robust health, through an automobile accident, Mrs. Freda Horwitz has sued T. Downtown Section Combed for Thief

Following the theft of $186 in cash, which James V. Holt, 1770 Filbert street, San Francisco, reported to the police last night, detectives are today seeking a sneak thief whom they believe is operating in downtown Oakland show houses.

PENNIES TO BE WEAPONS USED IN PLAGUE FIGHT

Pennies are the weapons with which the Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis plans to carry on its fight against the white plague in Alameda county. Friday at a luncheon at the Hotel Oakland, the society's executive committee of which Judge Snook is chairman discussed plans for the annual holiday sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals.

William MacDonald of Plymouth Center has been appointed manager of the sale this year, and he states that 75 per cent of all the funds raised will remain in Alameda county, December 1 to 10 has been set for the sale.

The work of the society is to be considerably broadened in the next year, and will include extensive educational work and the establishment and maintenance of well-baby clinics, mal-nutrition clinics, and a preventorium for children.

Passenger and Freight Companies Electric and Gas Utilities Water & Pipe-Line Utilities

- why this Water Company is under the Jurisdiction of the State Railroad Commission

The State Railroad Commission, a rate-fixing body, has jurisdiction over all common carriers, transportation and warehouse companies within the State of California.

It is the business of a railroad to transport passengers and commodities from one location to another—the business of a warehouse company to store those commodities. It is the business of the East Bay Water Company to store and transport water from its water sheds and wells to your home or factory.

The railroad's equipment consists of warehouses, engines, tracks, freight and passenger cars, repair shops, land and right-of-ways. It employs engineers, mechanics and inspectors. For fuel it uses oil, and for power, steam and electricity. It borrows money heavily for new extensions and equipment.

The East Bay Water Company is similar, in that it owns water warehouses, engines, land, franchises, pipes for transporting water, repair shops, etc. It employs engineers, mechanics and inspectors. It uses oil for fuel, and steam and electricity for power. It has the same financial problems in the extension of its pipe line and in the purchase of new equipment.

The East Bay Water Company—a public utility—is in truth, a storage and transportation company—and is therefore under the jurisdiction of the State Railroad Commission.

Pre-January Clearance Sale!

$250,000 Worth of Dresses, Suits, Coats, Furs, Waists, Etc., All at Tremendous Price Reductions

THINK OF IT! January Clearance Sale Prices NOW! and a $250,000.00 assortment of fine suits, dresses, coats, furs, waists, etc., to select from! Unusual business conditions make it imperative that we readjust stocks at once, and we have taken this drastic method of doing so. This sale will offer unlimited money-saving opportunities for shrewd shoppers, for here they may choose from new garments of the better kind which have been on display but a short time, at prices that represent tremendous reductions.

January Clearance Sale Prices NOW

Ordinarily this sale would take place in January, two months hence, but we have determined not to wait, but to reduce stocks at once. We believe that this is the most startling announcement made this season. It is probably unparalleled in the history of San Francisco's retail circles that a store of this high character should adopt such sensational measures, but we have, but one thought in view, and that is to—reduce stocks—regardless. Great savings can be effected by attending this unusual sale event.

Writes about FOLKS AND THINGS

They are making a great discussion in San Francisco, and it's all about a woman who says such an amazing thing.

This is it—70 men should wait 15 years after graduating before they marry. They should not sacrifice their individuality and their careers just because they want to be married.

Much more to this effect did Josephine Herbst say in her speech to the University of California co-eds.

What's a co-ed? Why, a co-ed is a girl who goes to college with the boys and studies the same things in the same classes, under the same professors, and graduates, so they say, quite often a year or so ahead of those same boys.

Co-eds had an awful time when they first began to be.

The men's students didn't want them and didn't like them, so they did everything they could to drive them away from college.

They made fun of them, they wrote verses about them and printed them in the college papers, they made cartoons representing the co-eds as strange, masculine creatures in short hair and gossamer dresses, and kept right on studying and graduating, and—be it remarked—getting engaged while they were at college and marrying just as quickly as they conveniently could after they graduated.

And everybody has forgotten that anybody ever wondered that a girl should want to cultivate her mind and as for the affairs of the state, she has the time of her lives calling Miss Herbst and her theories.

And the university girls—they are in a flutter over it.

Not that the pretty girls and the attractive ones are going right on taking walks in the moonlight and wearing roses that somebody sent them, and reading poetry and all the rest of it.

And the plain girls, or those who do not care for the attentions of men, are grinding away just as usual, but the college outside are having the time of their lives calling Miss Herbst and her theories.

Some are quite indignant over it. I wonder why.

Poor woman! Why shouldn't she theorize about love and marriage if she wants to? It won't hurt a soul, and as for the affairs of the state, she has the time of her lives calling Miss Herbst and her theories.

Should college women marry? Some of us are always rising to ask that somewhat astonishing question.

"Should they?" not "Will they?" As if there was anything about college that you noticed that?

One of them killed himself, the other killed his own brother on his wife's account, and the last one died of a broken heart. A college education or even a common school education might possibly have taught that selfish, flitting little fool that there was something in life besides the satisfaction of her own petty desires.

Marriage or a career? Fudge and faddists!

When a woman gets to the marrying age and wants to marry, well, marry if she has to lay near to the janitor of the building and get him to lead her to the altar—all the courting is not done by men, remember that.

How little we have to do, we poor mortals, with the affairs that we imagine are so personal.

WHAT'S YOUR VOTE?

There is a great war! The men are killed off, the race needs new blood and new life—and all at once all the college girls are getting married as long as they lived—yes, they may out and buy a new gown just as if they had never thought of anything but marriage since they were born.

Marriage or a career? If it comes to that, my vote is for marriage every day in the week. I'd rather boid my own little boy, come of my bone and flesh of my flesh, or my own daughter, heart of my heart and beat of my pulse, in my arm than to win all the law cases in the world or write the most successful book that was ever published. And I believe that in her heart of hearts every normal woman agrees with me.

"Where are you going, Uncle Wiggly?"

Wiggly of the rabbit gentleman one day, as he saw him hop down off the steps of his red, white and blue striped "reumatism bungalow."

"What's that?" asked Uncle Wiggly in surprise.

"Did anybody sneeze?" Grandpa Goosey wanted to know.

"No, I coughed!" answered the gruff voice and there stood the bad old fuzzy fox.

"Oh, dear!" said Uncle Wiggly and Grandpa Goosey and Sammie and Susie—all together, just as if they were singing a sad song. "Oh, dear!"

"I've come to get souse!" barked the fox, looking straight at Uncle Wiggly's ears.

"Quick! Hide in my cornob house!" whispered Sammie.

"It isn't big enough!" quacked Grandpa Goosey. "Oh, how can we make the bad fox go away?"

"I know!" cried Uncle Wiggly. "We'll throw corn cobs at him. The corn cobs are rough. The corn cobs are hard. The corn cobs are sharp on the end. Throw them at the fox!"

So Uncle Wiggly and Sammie and Susie and Grandpa Goosey threw about five hundred and twenty-seven hard corn cobs at the bad fox. They struck him on the nose and in the eyes, and the bad fox cried, "Wow! Wow! Wow!" Three times, just like that, he cried and away he ran and he didn't get Uncle Wiggly at all, at all.

REAL NERVE.

I admire the splendid courage of the soldier in the strife Who faces death undaunted and for freedom gives his life, And I'm sure the aviator as he speeds across the sky Is in every way a braver and a pluckier man than I, But I sing the greater courage of the reckless youth and rash Who braves the whole world's jeering while he's raising a mustache.

I have sat at times and marveled at some daring acrobat And I've said as I applauded: "I would never tackle that." I have seen brave men and fearless risk their precious lives for pay And I've wondered at their courage, but I rise right here to say That above these mighty heroes that across our vision flash, I place the nerry brother who is raising a mustache.

I might in times of danger risk my trivial neck to save A brother from disaster and a sad and early grave; I might some day go flying in an airship through the sky (Though I doubt it at this writing, for I have no wish to fly); I might try some bold adventure for a bit of fame or cash— But I lack the nerve that's needed to attempt a cute mustache.

If beans are a favorite dish in the family you will find a fireless cooker will save you considerable in the way of fuel and pot watching as well. For beans, although quered often as "cheap" meat substitute, count the cost of long-time cooking over a direct flame.

If you have a fireless you simply start the beans over the flame of oven and then into the fireless they go overnight. No fear of burning, no wasted juice, and very little cooking cost.

Boston Baked Beans.

1 quart of beans
1 tablespoonful of salt
1 teaspoonful of dry mustard
1/2 teaspoonful of soda
1 cupful of molasses
1 pound of fat salt pork

Let the beans soak in cold water over night. In the morning drain off water, add water and bring to boiling point. Then simmer slowly until beans are tender. Be careful not to let the beans boil or the beans will be broken. Properly prepared beans should be tender but waxy. Place in a earthen pot, add seasoning and sweet pork, boiling water and cover. Bake slowly for eight hours—or if the fireless is used, simply make for half an hour, then place in fireless over night.

In the oven the beans may be uncovered the last hour to brown. There is a bean dish that is really a delicacy.

Beans and Mushrooms.

2 cupsful of cold, cooked lima beans
1 cupful of button mushrooms
1/2 cupful of milk
1/2 cupful of butter
Salt pepper.

Melt the butter, add the chopped mushrooms and beans and simmer for ten minutes. Then season, add milk and simmer for five minutes. Serve at once on toast.

No other race of animals can show such a mastery as the black oxen that draw the funeral cars of Japanese Emperors. They are of a special breed, and for centuries have been kept for the sole use of the Imperial family.

REVELATIONS of a WIFE

by ADELE GARRISON.

"We will pretend to go to bed as usual," I said, "and put out all the lights. Then, giving myself plenty of time to catch the last train into New York at midnight, I will creep out the back door and across William's bridge to the pipe line, and thence to the station at Stoneville Centre."

"You won't go alone!" mother-in-law said with authority.

"No, I am unfortunately not brave enough for that," I returned ruefully, "but William and Pete will surely be sufficient escort, and they need be gone from here but little over an hour at the most."

Agatha's frown, however, unmistakable, sounded from stairs. She burst into my room without the ceremony of a knock, something she rarely omits, although I know she would always enter unannounced if she dared to do so.

"What do you think?" she demanded, her face flushed with indignation. "There are catfish in the form on the pipe line, and they won't let anybody pass."

My mother-in-law's eyes were full of consternation as she heard Cousin Agatha's evil-tongued words of the sentries on the pipe line from Harvin to Stoneville Centre. I saw that she considered my plan for getting away from the house unobserved was hopelessly lost. But I gave her a reassuring look, for I remembered, whilst she had evidently forgotten, that the tiny badge of the service which I wore concealed in my blouse was an open sesame wherever the army uniform was guarded.

I had not counted, however, upon the obstinate stupidity of the railroad special officers, who, in reality, were patrolling the pipe line, and whose uniform Cousin Agatha had mistaken for that of the army. And my mistake made me the victim of an embarrassing and unpleasant episode.

Getting away from the house was absurdly easy. I stole out of the laundry door with William preceding me and Pete following, and I heard from the hurts received at the inn, stalking proudly at my side. The dog's pride, however, could not begin to equal that of his master.

The plomiest misanthrope in the world would have been moved to laughter at the sight of poor old William's air of importance as he ushered me down the path to the wild grape arbor, from which his portable foot bridge afforded us a dry crossing to the woods on the other side of the brook.

Neither he nor I could have found a more distant into the wood. Then William stopped, and thrusting his ugly, twisted face close to mine, he whispered hoarsely:

"You don't hear no twigs nor sticks snapping do ye, Miss Graham?"

I shall never get used to William if he works for us the rest of his life. There is something so uncouth, almost unhuman, in his near-always beaming smile, that in my mother-in-law's parlance he "gives me the turn" whenever he comes near me.

The effect of his countenance so near to mine in the faint light of the first quarter of the moon—fortunately for our purpose a very light indeed—was especially terrifying. I shall always be proud that I was able to repress the strong impulse to scream which obsessed me at his sudden movement.

"No, William," I returned quietly. "That's because I've bin on the job ever since you told me what you wanted tonight," he went on proudly. "I've bin pretending to be some old time and get some wood, but all the time I wuz gettin' this path just like a floor, so nobody could hear us."

"That was very thoughtful, indeed, William," I whispered, reflecting grimly that some one was very apt to hear us if my poor old guide kept up his stage whispers much longer. "But we mustn't talk any more, you know. The pipe line must be very near."

"I'll keep mum as an oyster," he promised fervently, but his resolve came too late, for as we climbed the steep, the first picture of rather thin masculine voice with excitement in its tones say guardedly: "Look sharp, Bill."

Bill evidently obeyed the command, for the next instant two men rushed down the incline just above us, and seized William and me.

"By George, here's a woman," Bill, the first exclaimed, letting his electric flashlight travel over me. "I heard the gang there afraid of had a woman in it, and I guess we've got her."

William, who had submitted passively enough before, for he has great respect for constabulary authority, gave a hoarse cry as he saw the man's rough handling of me, threw off his own cap easily, and lunging forward began to tear like an animal at the arms of the man named Bill.

I was sorry I had spoken an instant later, for Bill's comrade, a tall, scrawny individual with prominent Adam's apple, which worked up and down obscuringly when he spoke, took advantage of William's instant obedience to give the old chap a cruel kick as he took possession of him again.

CINEMA CLOSE-UPS

MONROE SALISBURY.

Monroe Salisbury, while admitting he is superstitious about some things, which, from his viewpoint, are vital to his happiness and welfare, did not turn a hair when ordered by his director at Universal City to get into a burial casket. This bit of play is a part of the scenario of "The Phantom Melody." Later, the casket and its occupant are placed in a vault, with all the attendant gruesome details of a hair-raising melodrama.

Salisbury's mother, who happened in the studio while the burial casket scene was being taken, almost collapsed when she saw her son in the casement of death.

Salisbury's screen name was made by his portrayal of the role of Alessandro in "Ramona." Previously he had been a successful actor with Broadway, Mrs. Clark, John Drew, Kathryn Kiddle, Nance O'Shea and others.

OPERA HOUSE REPLICAS

The Metropolitan opera house scenes in Dorothy Phillips' special "Amateur," directed by her husband, Allen Holubar, are being shown in the studio while the burial casket scene was being taken, almost collapsed when she saw her son in the casement of death.

Salisbury's screen name was made by his portrayal of the role of Alessandro in "Ramona." Previously he had been a successful actor with Broadway, Mrs. Clark, John Drew, Kathryn Kiddle, Nance O'Shea and others.

VIOLA ADOPTS A MAYOR

Viola Dana, Metro star, cannot refrain from indulging in comedy off the stage as well as on. Recently the mayor of Los Angeles, a water movie fan, visited the studio and was almost immediately adopted by the little star. She called the visiting official "my mayor," offered to divide her chocolate bonbons with him and, arm-in-arm, escorted him about the studio grounds.

LOIS WEBER AGAIN AT WORK

The most interesting piece of screen news in the Hollywood, Cal. motion picture district concerns Lois Weber. This mistress of the camera art has returned to her studio looking as blooming and beautiful as though she never had suffered a broken arm or the painful operation of having it reset. Her first picture for Paramount will have the working title of "The Modern Pilgrim's Progress." It is believed to be Miss Weber's own story and is said to be a modern narrative with a universal appeal. William C. Sullivan has been engaged to play the "heavy" and George Hachathorn will be the leading male. Lewis Higganbotham, formerly with Douglas Fairbanks, is her studio manager.

MARY ALDEN WITH MILDRED CHAPLIN

Mary Alden has just finished an engagement playing opposite to House Peters, is supporting Mildred Chaplin in the first picture of the new season, "The Interior Scene," under the management of Louis B. Mayer.

Miss Alden was with Griffith for many years. She first gained screen prominence by her unusual performance in "The Birth of a Nation." Milton Sills, who played opposite Clara Kimball Young in the filming of "The Birth of a Nation," is Miss Alden's leading man. The first exterior scenes of "The Interior Scene" have been shot along "Seventeenth Mile Drive," near Del Monte, Cal.

Oakland Delegates Bolt Convention When Lincoln Highway Is Abandoned

Work already done or contracted for on the Lincoln highway through Nevada, amounting to almost $500,000, has lost the endorsement of western interests and the Overland Trail, following the Southern Pacific through their program, has gained a result of the convention held in Reno Saturday. In the opinion of Joseph E. Caine, managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, who led the bolters from the convention there, the Lincoln highway work will proceed, despite this reversal.

That difficulties will be met by the Overland Trail proponents in raising the $450,000 to which California is pledged for assistance to Nevada, in the face of this, is predicted by several who have returned from the convention. Before bond issues can be passed in several Nevada counties, this amount must have been pledged from outside, and a committee of the California Automobile association is to set to endeavor at once to raise the amount.

In addition, reports were current today that, as a result of the Reno action, Southern California cities would renew their program of making Los Angeles the terminus of the Lincoln highway. They would do this by improving the highway from Ely, on the Lincoln route, to the south and believe their arguments for such diversion will receive a more open-minded reception from the Lincoln highway association as a result of the Reno action.

PURPOSE OF SESSION

According to Caine it was understood that the Reno session was to discuss the highway routes through the state. When the delegates from here, Stockton, Placerville and other cities reached Reno, however, they found that the convention had been packed with delegates favoring the northern route. The situation, says Caine, fairly presented to them when Mayor P. W. Stewart of Reno frankly stated that the convention was called to endorse the Overland Trail.

The convention was participated in by delegates of semi-official highway, automobile, commercial and civic bodies of three states. The bulk of the delegates and the site of the highway was consumed in argument and it was nearly time for the special train to leave to bring the California delegation home when a vote finally was taken.

Caine acted as spokesman for the Lincoln highway advocates. When it was found impossible to make any headway in the debate and the site of the highway was consumed in argument and it was nearly time for the special train to leave to bring the California delegation home when a vote finally was taken.

Little opposition to the Overland Trail remained after Caine, the El Dorado delegation and others had given up the fight. Endorsement of the northern route finally went through with but one dissenting vote.

Following the split in the convention the California delegates, strong, caucused separately. L. S. Nares of Fresno, chairman of the road and highway committee of the California Automobile association, was made chairman of a committee of seven to redeem California's $450,000 pledge. It was pointed out that this is equivalent to the combined bond issues of Elko, Humboldt, Pershing and Washoe counties, Nevada, for the construction of the proposed highway.

Nares made an earlier address in which he gave his reasons for favoring the northern route. He said, "On physical conditions, he said, it could be constructed at a less cost than the Lincoln highway route. He believed the hazards of travel minimized through by proximity to the railroad."

S. F. CHAMBER REPRESENTED

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, through its committee on the federal highway commission, Adolph Mack, chairman of the good roads committee, Mack gave an address on the road problems not only of the United States, but of California, and remote sections of the world. The convention endorsed the Townsend bill, providing for the creation of a federal highway commission, with certain proposed amendments as follows:

That the federal body be composed of five members selected from the north, south, east, west and central portions of the United States.

That the commission be granted the fullest powers possible under the constitution, that it be free from political influence and that no less than two federal highways be constructed in each state.

A. M. CLAY DIES AT AGE OF 64

BERKELEY, Nov. 17.—Allen Morgan Clay, secretary of the Bank of California of San Francisco, died this morning at the family residence, 2819 Derby street, Berkeley. Clay has been connected with the Bank of California for thirty years and was prominent in financial circles of the bay region ever since coming to California thirty-two years ago.

He was born in New York 64 years ago and came to California as a young man, making his home in Alameda first and later in Berkeley. Death came after a two days' illness from paralysis. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Marion Clay, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Eckhart of the Hawaiian Islands, and Mrs. William J. Gardner of Piedmont.

Seeks to Protect Officers' Exchange

Congressional action to prevent loss to American officers who served in France because of the fluctuating rate of exchange of francs and dollars is likely according to the State committee on requisitioning in response to its representations, Congressman Julius Kahn has written Adjutant-General Brooke that high army officers are being asked to stop should be taken to prevent any sacrifice by the Americans.

Some of the officers, it is said, will be obliged to sacrifice one-third of their pay unless the government acts in one case that of Captain A. J. Washburn, it is declared that the officer will lose $320.53 on his pay. The solution is said to lie in legislation which will permit the officers to exchange their checks, made out in francs, for their original value in United States currency.

Eastbay Men Drawn on U. S. Grand Jury

T. E. Crandall, 1724 Adeline street, Oakland, and A. W. Thornton, 193 Hired street, Berkeley, are on the federal grand jury of 23 men which was empaneled today before United States District Judge Frank Rudkin. The new body is to be in session during November, December, January and February. Practically the entire membership is made up of San Francisco citizens, the only exceptions being Crandall and Thornton and one member each from San Jose and San Mateo. Many important issues are scheduled for early consideration by the jurors, particularly wartime prohibition violations and other infractions of federal statutes.

HOSPITAL UNIT TO GO UP ON ONE CONTRACT

The board of supervisors today decided it would not alter its present plan to let the contract for the first $500,000 unit of the new $2,500,000 Highland hospital of Alameda county as a whole, despite the declarations of Alameda county contractors that there is a combine among San Francisco and Oakland lumber dealers whereby Oakland contractors cannot purchase lumber in San Francisco and that if the contract is divided so that the building, plumbing, painting and other work is separately bid on local contractors will be shut out.

The board members took the stand that while they would do everything in their power to throw the work involved to Alameda county contractors, their duty is to see that the county itself is protected and that the project must be carried out in the best way for the county as a whole. They held that if there is a combine which makes prices for lumber from $15 to $18 per thousand, it is better to let the work go to San Francisco, as charged by Charles Morehead, secretary of the General Contractors' association, the place to remedy such a situation is not in the board of supervisors, though they were unanimous in their declaration that if Alameda county contractors can underbid or equal outside bidders the contract should go to a local concern, other things being equal.

ARCHITECT'S POSITION.

County Architect H. H. Meyers pointed out that in his opinion the interests of the county demand that the plan already entered upon, of letting the contract as a whole, be followed. He said a segregation of the work would cost more, as the general contractors will not bid as low when they have to meet the bids of contractors who pick out a certain line of work. Furthermore, he said he would have to be paid for the supervision of the work of a dozen contractors than if he had to deal merely with one head and that the plans and specifications, already submitted, would have to be reworked.

Dr. R. G. Brodrick, director of hospitals, and who supervised the work of building the San Francisco county hospital, said he also believed it would be most advantageous to the county to let the contract as a whole.

Mrs. Horatio Bonestell, representing the Ladies' Relief Society, which maintains a home for babies, children and old ladies at Forty-third and Telegraph avenue, and Mrs. A. Street appeared before the board to ask an appropriation of $5000 a year for the support of the home. They said the increased cost of living had presented grave problems to them, though they had raised more money in the past year through private subscription and benefits than formerly. It was pointed out that the board could not grant money in such a case except for indigents. Chief Deputy District Attorney Theodore W. Bonestell said that such abandoned children as there are in the home can be supported by the county. Mrs. Bonestell will secure a list of the same.

COUNTY WELFARE BOARD.

The board, appointed to the County Welfare Board, began its year beginning with December 16, Mrs. S. J. Ackerman, Morris Schneider, Mrs. Carrie G. Hoyt and Mrs. E. G. Harrison. The other members, whose terms have not expired, are Rev. John Stephens, Mrs. Edna Overacker and W. A. Spooner.

Mrs. Sallie Casper, the "fifth member" of the board, whom the county has supported for years, though she refuses to go to an institution, asked for transportation for a visit to Chicago and return. The board refused her request, but said if she would agree to remain in the East she would be given the money.

The resolution providing for the sale of $125,000 of the $475,000 issue of school bonds was passed. The bonds will be sold on December 3. Of this amount $279,000 will be for high school buildings and repairs and $45,000 for grammar schools. All of the bonds are in denominations of $100 and have an interest of 6 per cent. All are to be paid within forty years, sixty-three to be retired each year for twenty-two years and sixty-four a year for the succeeding eighteen years.

A. J. Gray was awarded the contract for building a bridge over San Lorenzo creek near Hayward at $1400.

The board voted to endorse the "Farm to Table" plan for Thanksgiving week, whereby throughout the nation owners of automobiles are asked to buy food from farmers while in the rural districts.

Oakland Man Robbed and Beaten in S. F.

Manuel Gomez, colored, of 1107 Seventh street, Oakland, was held up, robbed of $79 and badly beaten by two armed and masked men, who accosted him on lower Pacific street, San Francisco, as he was on his way home at an early hour this morning. Gomez is in a much slier on the waterfront. He reported to the police that the men thrust revolvers in his face, took his money and then proceeded to beat him up. The victim of the hold-up was treated at the Central Emergency hospital.

One million rounds of artillery ammunition were used in four hours at the battle of St. Mihiel.

What a pity she doesn't know Resinol Soap would improve her complexion

Remarks like the above are passed about many girls whose appearance would be most attractive were it not for a poor skin. RESINOL SOAP is just what such girls need to help in overcoming their complexion difficulties. It does more than remove dirt—it gets right after those clogged pores, and excessive oiliness, and it benefits the skin cells. When a little Resinol Ointment is used in connection with Resinol Soap, relief is hastened, and unless the trouble is due to some internal disorder, the complexion is usually cleared in a short time.

RESINOL SHAVING STICK is very popular with men who like the way the Resinol stick soothes the face.

RECEPTION OF DE VALERA BY FRIENDS HERE

press and the accounts said that he was stoned.

"If the fate of Ireland was to be left to a vote of the American Legion," De Valera said, "I would be content of the outcome; for the members of the legion could only vote for the principle of self-determination, for which they fought."

He denied that the flag incidents have been inspired by the legion as an organization, but in bitter language attributed it to "British propaganda."

GUESTED BY CHIEF ADMIRERS AT STATION.

When the presidential train arrived at the station De Valera was besieged by a crowd of some two hundred admirers and sympathizers, who insisted upon shaking hands. He was piloted through the crush by Supervisor Andrew Gallagher of San Francisco, who, with H. J. Quinn, chairman of the Oakland reception committee; J. J. Cox and J. P. Chambers, went to Port Costa to meet him.

Outside the station the guard of honor waited and a cheer of greeting went up. The party boarded the motorcars and with the guard walking, marched up Sixteenth street to San Pablo, past the City Hall to Fourteenth, on Fourteenth to Broadway and to the hotel on Thirteenth street. There were crowds at the downtown corner and occasional handclapping as the procession followed by a train of automobiles passed.

The Oakland speech was delivered at business men's luncheon at the hotel. The president outlined the history of Ireland's fight for nationhood, and pleaded his cause for recognition of the Irish Republic.

IRELAND'S FIGHT FOR SOVEREIGNTY IS LONG.

"Ireland," he said, "was a nation, exercising full sovereign rights. The Danes came and disputed that right for 350 years. The Irish cause won then as it will win now. Then came the Normans, and the fight against the sovereign rights of Ireland has continued since, for 750 years.

"In 1803 was passed the Act of Union, which even Gladstone characterized as an infamy. It was forced upon Ireland, but Ireland disputed its legality and never accepted it. There have been four armed insurrections against it, the last occurring in 1916.

"Ireland's case is unanswerable," he continued, "by direct argument and Great Britain is now trying to meet it by indirect methods. (This statement was in reference to the flag incidents). If Ireland's case was to be decided by the American Legion I would be confident of Ireland's vindication, for the American men who fought in France for the right of self-determination never could vote against that principle.

MEELY PLACES CLAIM BEFORE AMERICANS.

"Our mission here is the simply open purpose of bringing Ireland's claim for recognition and self-determination direct to the American people, so that they may come to a judgment upon it.

"We make our appeal by argument and by legitimate, above-board methods. Britain tries to frustrate us by underhand methods. We believe that all American citizens will support the right of a people to determine for themselves, and will refuse to be influenced by the British propaganda. According to the public accounts of Great Britain the sum of $150,000,000 was spent within a short period in this propaganda.

"English statesmen, finding now that their hope of obtaining complete world dominion is defeated by the solidity of the American nation, have resorted to the traditional British policy of trying to sow seeds of dissension among the American people with reference to the Irish cause."

The reception committee that met the visitor included: Herbert J. Quinn, chairman; Leo J. McCarty, secretary; J. F. Chambers, Andrew J. Gallagher, William A. Lynch, J. J. Cox, M. C. Kings, James Shan, C. J. Toomey, Dr. J. Moher, W. J. Kieferdorf, Thomas M. Marshall, John Riordan, John Mulvaney, D. P. Selby and from San Francisco, Judge Barney J. Flood, Martin Gallagher, George Comber, M. J. Hawkins and others.

DENY LAW PREVENTS USING IRISH FLAG

After a conference this morning between Chief of Police J. F. Lynch and Commissioner F. Muree, it was decided that there is no law preventing the use of the Irish flag as a decoration on the De Valera car, and it was decided therefore, that its use could not be interfered with.

It was at De Valera's suggestion that the American flag was given a position on the reception car above the Irish flag, and all along the line of march and at the hotel he carefully guarded the American flag's precedence. At the hotel reception when the bearer of the American flag was about to get on his left hand the president caught his arm and drew him back.

"Always to the right," he said, "Be careful of that."

After the hotel luncheon and speech the De Valera party was taken on a drive through the East-bay, over the scenic Boulevard and to the University of California cam-

NOTE IS CLEW IN MARTINEZ MURDER CASE

MARTINEZ, Nov. 17.—It was reported here this afternoon that Sheriff Veale is about to make an arrest as the result of the note received Saturday by Chief of Police Vollmer of Berkeley, which told where the missing portion of a shovel handle could be found. Veale and his deputies are now in Oakland.

Oakland today is the investigation center of the weirdest and most accurate clew that the Martinez murder mystery has developed.

The man who wrote to Chief of Police Vollmer Saturday telling exactly where officers could find the missing portion of the shovel handle that presumably killed the woman who was murdered in Franklin canyon near Martinez, and whose decomposed body was found there just a week ago, knew his ground, events yesterday proved. The missing part of the shovel handle was found, according to directions.

It is because this note was mailed from Oakland, and also because a previous note received by Sheriff William Veale was also mailed from Oakland that the investigation is centered here. The first note said that the woman had got her deserts and that the authorities could "go to hell."

The note received by Vollmer in a clumsy printed hand, and with illiterate spelling, stated that the missing handle could be found "100 yards down and 100 yards east" from the point of the murder and that the woman was "killed in February after robbing me and going with other men."

Deputy Sheriff Dyke Joell is the man who went to the spot yesterday and found the missing part of the handle. It was buried under leaves. The lower end had been sawed from the shovel. The broken end fitted into the broken end of the upper part.

All previously attempted identifications have failed.

MINE OWNER ON HIS FEET AGAIN

Gains Twenty-five Pounds and Ends Troubles by Taking Tanlac.

"After five years of suffering and trying every kind of medicine, I heard of it, took Tanlac to put me on my feet again," said A. Cackley, who resides at 504 Scott street, San Francisco, to a Tanlac representative recently. Mr. Cackley owns and operates a mine at Klamath, Ariz. and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the country. Continuing he said: "I had indigestion so bad I would often rather go without eating than suffer the consequences. Every thing I ate would sour and ferment and cause me to bloat terribly. I would have the worst sort of pain in my stomach and my heart would flutter and beat like it would jump out then it would seem to almost stop beating and I could hardly get my breath. I would get dizzy at times and when I would stoop over and straighten up everything would turn black and I would have to grab hold of something to keep from falling. My kidneys were irregular and my back would ache for days at a time. I never had a sleep for a week. It seemed as if the bones were breaking. I could hardly sleep at all and I would wake up completely exhausted and not really able to get up. I had lost weight until I was scarcely more than a frame and was so weak I could hardly get about."

He had been reading of the benefit of Tanlac and decided to try it, and it has absolutely relieved me of all my troubles. I am never bothered with indigestion, my appetite is fine and I can eat anything I want without suffering any bad after effects. I never have those dizzy spells any more and my kidneys are all right again. I feel like a new man in better health than I ever have been in my life. I can sleep like a log and never wake up once during the night, and get up in the morning bright and refreshed. I have gained twenty-five pounds in weight and am in better health every way than I have been for years. I surely appreciate what Tanlac has done for me and never miss an opportunity to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company, stores—Advertisement.

zen. By the record of her life in this country—a continuous record of violations and defiance of the laws—she could never have become a citizen, because her oath of allegiance would have been perjury.

Mr. Palmer can give the country much assurance when he informs it that Emma Goldman has left the shores of America for the land whence she came. That is about all that is required of the Attorney-General in the Goldman case. And if she is not deported immediately, an enquiry into the office of the immigration commissioner of New York city will be timely.

FEDERAL EXPENDITURES.

An encouraging reduction in national government expenditures was recorded in October, according to a recent Treasury Department statement. The total disbursement amounted to $576,319,000, the lowest figure since June, 1917.

In the month of October the net current deficit, excess of disbursements over receipts, exclusive of transactions in the principal of the public debt was $319,239,450.35, the lowest figure for any month since April, 1917, excluding months in which income and profits taxes were payable. Large receipts from the sale of accumulated stores, etc., coming under the general head of "salvage," taking the form of both repayments to appropriations and consequent diminution of ordinary expenditures and of additions to miscellaneous revenue, have contributed to the reduction of the deficit.

At the October rate of expenditures the annual outlay would be about $6,892,000,000. Thus we are retaining a considerable burden of war costs. Counting the payments necessary on account of the war increase to the public debt, the annual budget ought to be less than $3,000,000,000.

REBUILDING CITIES.

Mr. Emile Cammaerts, the distinguished Belgian, writing in the October Yale Review, discusses an interesting conflict of opinion now raging in Belgium and one which can readily be understood by those who remember the San Francisco fire of 1906 and the rebuilding program which was much talked about and followed to a certain extent. It all centers around the rebuilding of the cities destroyed by the German invaders.

A sharp distinction must be established, says this authority, between towns which have been completely destroyed, like Dixmude and Nienport, and others which have been partially preserved, like Louvain and Dinant. The first can be rebuilt according to any rational plan which meets with the approval of the state and local authorities, without taking account of the past. But when it comes to the partly destroyed towns, the real arguments begin. Two schools of thought on the subject exist and reconciliation is difficult. To quote Mr. Cammaerts:

"There are the modernists who are ready to sacrifice the half-ruined remains of a beautiful past to the exigencies of modern life, and the conservatives who would like to rebuild the town solely to emphasize the importance of the few historic monuments which have been more or less preserved. The latter attitude of mind is not necessarily more artistic than the first. The restorers do not content themselves with reestablishing things as they were in 1914; they would like to use this opportunity to do away with all modern buildings in order to obtain what they call a 'perfect architectural ensemble' dating from a single period, and ignoring the important fact that towns have a life of their own like human beings, and that such reconstruction, besides being impossible (since the stone carvers and master masons of the past cannot be brought to life again), could only produce an utterly artificial result. These dogmatic restorers have already done sufficient harm in the past, and it is to be hoped that no fresh chance for mischief will be given to them in the future."

Naturally, and as always the case, these extremists take the center of the stage and attract most attention. But there are those who follow a middle course. Saying less than the extremists, it may be expected that they will expect more from the future. The rebuilding plan, whenever it is possible to broaden streets to meet the demands of modern motor traffic, they think this should be done, but not at the cost of destroying the artistic effect of some of the historic and monumental buildings which it is desired be restored to their original character. The idea is both economical and artistic, and it is practicable.

As Mr. Cammaerts points out, the principle would be to preserve the center of such cities as Louvain and Dinant more or less in their original state, without attempting any artificial reconstruction to lead the main traffic through the old roads that surround them. Thus the cities are preserved for their medieval architecture, and constituting a wealth of tradition would be preserved, but the cities would be enabled to adjust themselves to modern methods of travel and transportation.

Largely an art, historical and artistic problem, the rebuilding of destroyed Belgium cities also touches deeply the future economic and spiritual life of the people. The rebuilding of the past is not in itself an end, but a means to the end of a better life. The rebuilding of the past is not in itself an end, but a means to the end of a better life.

NOTES and COMMENT

The girl who wasn't scared by the robber who pointed a gun at her and managed to prevent his getting away with $20,000, is a real heroine. It is, of course, to be taken into account that the present-day robber may or may not be bluffing when he points a pistol. There are many instances when he ruthlessly pulls the trigger.

Sheriff Barnett's idea is a good one. It might be a wise plan if it succeeded in rounding up culprits with an airplane, to take them aboard and keep them there, instead of taking a chance by locking them up in the county jail.

What Hindenberg would have done a couple of years ago to those students who wouldn't let him enter the Reichstag may only be imagined. But it may be pretty accurately imagined.

On this prohibition question the judges are trenching on the prerogative of the doctors. They are disagreeing most heartily. Meanwhile, time is on the wing. January 16, 1920, is just two months off.

The Grand Duke Alexander scores the President for not taking care of Russia. The czars and grand dukes have had their autocratic ways in Russia for more than 300 years, and should not expect a president of a republic, who isn't having his sweet way for as much as seven years, to get them out of their mud.

"Why Worry Over Meat?" inquires the San Luis Obispo Tribune, and then proceeds to tell how the Roman soldiers who built such wonderful roads and carried a weight of armor and luggage that would crush the average farm hand, lived on coarse, brown bread and sour wine; and how the Spanish peasant works every day and dances half the night, yet eats only black bread, onion and watermelon. The modern hired man, however, may not accept ancient history as a substitute for a steak.

The Richmond News is a frank unbeliever: "A Pennsylvania Republican declares there are Democrats so sick of the Democratic administration that they are willing to lose their offices just to see the Republicans in power again. Say! The signifying that has attached to the memory of Ananias is unjust. He was no liar. He was only a mild form of fairy tale spinner!"

Concerning the recent bank robbery in Redding the Searchlight makes this comprehensive comment: "Some people are born rich, while others have a faculty for walking into a bank and scooping up $14,000."

Dough amenities, taken account of by the Standard: "San Francisco bakers charged Los Angeles with making the poorest bread ever. And now the Angelenos come back with a hint that they will shortly raise the dough ante."

The Searchlight notes how times have changed: "In the good old days any man who argued prohibition was a sort of pean. But now even the Supreme Court of the United States is about to consider it."

During yesterday's sales on the People's Cotton Exchange three bales of short staple cotton, the property of T. L. Thirty-two office employees of the Santa Fe Railroad in Los Angeles were discharged for leaving their work to celebrate Armistice Day, 11 of them being ex-convicts who were arrested in the parade. The day is past in this bustling country when the business man could pick a little sign in his front window and start a rush of business to his store. WHAT IS A CAPITALIST?

To the Editor of The Tribune:

The writer asked at random a friend who is working for a moderate income and has a little stake, the question, "What is a capitalist?" And the reply was prompt: "That which I am not." He asked the question, "equally at random," of another friend, very similarly situated, and was answered at once, "A man who has more money than he knows what to do with."

These two persons are intelligent, fairly educated people, doing fairly well in a small way. They are good types of the rank and file of American people and their answers are typical of the average idea of what constitutes a capitalist.

The popular idea of a capitalist is an individual of large, not to say conspicuous wealth, entirely able to do as he chooses, more or less removed from and indifferent to the common people, and in number, small and select.

Now, while it is true that a capitalist may be all that, it is equally true that such a conception is about as far removed from the real thing as a conception could possibly be.

"Capital" is defined as "goods or values designed for the production of other goods or values, in contradistinction to goods or values designed for present enjoyment." A capitalist is defined as "one who possesses capital."

These definitions make it perfectly plain that a capitalist is one who possesses "goods or values," say money, which is being used for the production of other goods or values, instead of being used for present enjoyment. In this definition, no sum is fixed, and as a matter of fact, no sum can be fixed, as the minimum which is requisite for this purpose to come under this definition. Who shall say that the possession of five thousand, ten thousand, fifty thousand or a hundred thousand dollars in money or value, is necessary to enable one to step over the line from the non-capitalist to the capitalist class? The definition quoted makes perfectly clear what actually constitutes a capitalist. The child with five dollars deposited in a savings bank is a capitalist in the same sense as the millionaire whose values designed for the production of other values rather than for present enjoyment.

Savings bank funds are lawfully employed in the creation of values, but in the community in which each individual bank is located, but also in the wider field of the district, state and nation, in the development of real estate, the building of homes and the financing of public utilities. The law authorizes the use of savings deposits for real estate loans, and for the purchase of water, light, power, street and railroad bonds, and the like approved securities. The funds so used are, ninety per cent at least, the small savings of the wage earner—in other words his capital, which thus aggregated can be used in the service of developing and upbuilding the community, with safety and profit to himself, a result which would be entirely impossible through any individual and independent effort of his own.

On October first of the current year, a single one of the savings banks of Oakland, held $30,548,534 in savings deposits, owned by 44,397 individual depositors, the average being $673 each. Every one of these depositors is a capitalist. The definition of capitalist quoted above exactly fits him. There are probably a hundred thousand savings depositors, in the aggregate, with all the savings banks of this city, and if the population of the city should be estimated at three hundred thousand, we have one capitalist for every three persons, not to mention values other than savings deposits designed for the production of other values.

In other words, at least one person in every three whom you pass on the street, man, woman and child, is a capitalist. Oakland is probably not singular in this respect; what is true of this community is doubtless relatively true of every community in the land.

Every individual who owns a fifty dollar Liberty Bond is a capitalist to that extent, and there are more than thirty-five million owners of Liberty bonds.

So that the individual who rolls against capitalists and the capitalist class, is making a wanton assault upon the whole body of the American people. He is denouncing what he himself may now be, and certainly what he is hoping and aiming to become.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Rest Your Eyes Frequently and Avoid Peril of Strain

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
(Johns Hopkins University.)

Eyes speak. If they do not, they can boast of no particularly striking beauty, no matter how large they may be. It is true that there are many pairs of eyes which have a large contour, but the expression in them is dull. Such eyes, as a rule, are either defective in some way or the owner of them lacks spirit to portray any emotion in them. It is usually, however, that it is not spirit which is lacking, but that the eyes are not up to the greatest capacity of health.

The eyes are about the most used and abused part of the human fabric. They are so much in daily and hourly use that you make them serve your purpose every time without even thinking that you are employing them in everlastingly tasks.

The only time that the eyes are at rest is when you make them look into the distance and when you have them shut. This happens very rarely indeed. Of the twenty-four hours in the day you keep them closed only about eight and you rarely rest them at intervals when using them during the day. In addition to all this, moreover, you do the eyes injustice by taxing them under conditions which are antagonistic to their welfare.

If you would aim to have your eyes express whatever feeling or spirit you want to show in them you must first give your eyes the rest they need.

When out in the open you can rest your eyes by looking freely into space. Do not hamper their vision at this time by the use of a heavily dotted veil.

Veils are stylish some times, and they add dignity and handsomeness to your general appearance, but even though all this is true you need not burden the eyes with heavy dots about them. If you want to wear your veil, see that it has large meshes, and that it is made of as thin fibres of silk as can be bought.

A thin-meshed veil lends you the dignity and added personal charm you seek and at the same time keeps away the effects of bad weather from the face as well as from the eyes. It does not retain near the nostrils the sticky air released by the respiratory process as does a heavy veil. The thin veil, moreover, does not interfere with clearness of vision, because it does not make you look the world in the face through a narrow lattice.

No more than you should permit the veil to interfere with the natural well-being of the eyes, should you permit yourself to gaze carelessly into the glaring rays of the sun. If you do this the iris or coloring visible at the center of the external eyeball cannot shut out the fast incoming rays of light. The iris is the successive amount of light forces the iris into inefficiency as a screen may suffer to the extent of temporary blindness. Your eyes thus lose their sparkle, and they are apt to become weary as a result of muscle strain. Where the muscles are strained the eyes express dullness and pain instead of life and spirit.

Eye strain is a gradual process, but you cannot afford even to let it begin. When you work have a bit of mercy upon your eyes and do for them what you would expect them to do for you.

Dark material plus artificial light and close-meshed embroidery are not conducive to strong muscles and good vision.

Whenever your eyes continue to feel strained have them examined by a competent optometrist. You are then most likely in need of a remedy, the use of which will relieve the strain and restore to your eyes their former glow and sparkle.

Oakland Gives Important Clew to Detective's Murderers

YOUTHS WHO FLED IONE ARE TWO SUSPECTS

Couple Arrested Here for Auto Theft Are Believed to Have Had Hand in Killing of Policeman in S. F.

Oakland police today furnished a clew that they believe may lead to the identification and capture of the men who murdered Anton Schoombs, San Francisco detective, when he jumped on the running board of their automobile last night. That a pair arrested for automobile thefts in this city and who escaped two weeks ago from Ione reformatory, fled by way of Sacramento, where they stole a machine and then came to Oakland, leaving the automobile at a garage here, committed the transbay crime, is the suspicion transmitted to the San Francisco authorities by Inspector Lou Agnew.

When it was learned today that three soldiers' overcoats had been found lying at the bottom of the automobile in which the policeman's slayers were riding, Agnew declared his suspicions increased.

When one of the two whom he believes may have been responsible first was captured by the police here, he wore a soldier's uniform, Agnew said, although it was found that he had not been in the army.

The description of two of the slayers fits John Rolis and Fred Shelton, the Oakland miscreants, Agnew asserted. Rolis is extremely dark-complexioned while Shelton, his partner, is light.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—A blood-stained automobile found this morning abandoned at Scott and Sutter streets, furnished the police with the first definite clew in a search for two men who shot and instantly killed Police Detective Anton Schoombs Jr. on Market street last night. Schoombs was killed when he sprang upon the automobile and attempted to arrest the men on suspicion of having murdered Louis Walters, a grocer, at his store, California and Divisadero streets, Thursday night.

Matherson today instructed police to shoot on sight if they confronted the men who shot Schoombs if they showed any disposition to resist arrest.

The seven men who have been picked up by the police are going through a severe cross-examination in the hope they may furnish additional clews to the identity of the two men who shot the officer, or details as to their possible movements. The police said none of these now being examined were identified with the crime.

The murder car which was found at Scott and Sutter streets is a Studebaker, 1914 model, and of a dark maroon color. The mud guards were covered with mud and one side of the car was liberally splattered with blood. According to the police the car was a stolen vehicle and was used by the same men who recently held up gas supply stations at Loma and Union streets and Hayes and Baker streets.

Romance of War Will Lead to Romantic Wedding in Oakland

MISS DOROTHY EVE BUCKLETON, heroine of war romance, who will wed tomorrow.

England's call took the family of Dorothy Eve Buckleton from Oakland to Liverpool when Miss Buckleton was a child of four. The whirligig of war has brought her back to the city of her birth to become the bride tomorrow of a hero of the American army. The latter is Captain Burgo Purcell, a winner of the Croix de Guerre and a son of Germain Purcell of San Gabriel, Cal. The wedding is to be solemnized tomorrow at the country home of her aunt, Mrs. William G. Angus, near Hayward.

Miss Buckleton is the daughter of Captain and Mrs. Buckleton of Liverpool, England. Her father is

REPLY SENT SODERBERG ON PARR LEASE

Harbor Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Points Advantage in Granting Extension Asked

Granting to Fred D. Parr of the Parr Terminal Company, an extension of time in which to carry out certain terms of his lease on western waterfront lands, is only in the nature of helping a partner, according to a letter written by Joseph E. Caine, managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, to Frederick Soderberg, commissioner of public works.

The letter is in answer to an inquiry from the commissioner as to the reasons for the Harbor Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce approving the resolution for an extension of time, which was scheduled to be acted upon by the city council this morning.

Caine, in his reply, which was mailed to Soderberg so as to be received by him before the meeting of the council, pointed out that by granting the original lease to Parr this city, in effect, became his partner in the development of the waterfront and "anything that benefits your partner will benefit you, anything that interferes with his progress will simply delay the date when the city shall receive the extensive indirect benefits that are bound to accrue from the proper development of the property."

The letter also points out that Commissioner Soderberg was invited to the two meetings of the Harbor Development Committee at which the Parr lease was considered and afterwards was asked by letter to outline his objections to an extension of time.

REQUEST FROM SODERBERG
"Referring to the approval by our committee of the proposed changes in the lease to the Parr Terminal Company, you request that you be informed as to the reasons Parr advanced to this committee that resulted in the said approval," says the letter.

"At the times Parr appeared before our committee, he explained already made by the Parr Terminal Company on its western waterfront property, giving him the amount of expenditure already expended, which totaled approximately $300,000. Parr stated that under the terms of his lease he is obligated to spend only that amount of money during the entire term of twenty-five years."

"Parr explained that certain buildings and other improvements required by his lease could not be used to advantage at the present time and therefore asked some extension and some substitutions, which our committee considered entirely fair and reasonable."

"You were invited to attend both of the meetings at which this matter was discussed, and it was because of the desire of the committee to be fair to both sides that the matter was submitted to you by letter."

ADVANTAGE TO OAKLAND
"The Harbor Development Committee believes that such arrangement would be of tremendous value to the city of Oakland, and that the city council should, therefore, not hesitate to make the suggested changes."

"If I interpret the thought of our committee correctly it is that the city of Oakland can reap benefits from this lease only as it co-operates with the Parr Terminal Company and offers that company every facility consistent with the rights of the municipality to develop and conduct its business at a profit."

"Our committee believes that Mr. Parr has undertaken the development of the western waterfront in good faith and that the expenditure of large sums of money already made are sufficient proof of this."

Football Stars of Twenty Years Ago Banquet Guests

Old-time football men from the teams of 1898 and 1899, when the University of California defeated Stanford 22 to 0 and 30 to 0, respectively, will be the guests of honor at the football banquet to be held Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Merchants' Exchange buildings, San Francisco.

At the old-timers' table will be seated the following: Harry Cornish, Fred J. Griesberg and Fred Athern, guards; Percy Hall and "Locomotive" Smith, half-backs, and Pete Kaarberg, full-back. "Brick" Morec will preside at the table of the former gridiron stars.

George McNoble, president of the Stockton Alumni Club, will act as toastmaster.

The terminal company has had the advantage of the advice of good engineers and of such an eminent authority as Captain Robert Dollar, and it is fair to assume that the company is proceeding intelligently to make the best possible use of this valuable waterfront. Surely, something can be gained for the city by insisting upon the erection of useless buildings simply because it has the power to do so.

"Whether the municipality desires it or not, it is closely bound in a partnership with the Parr Terminal Company for a period of twenty-five years. Anything that benefits your partner will benefit you."

Fifty Charged With Auto Violations Fined

Fifty offenders of the state motor vehicle act, including twenty-one speeders, who were arrested as a result of operations of a special squad of officers of the State Motor Vehicle Department who started their operations in Oakland Saturday night, appeared in the two police courts this morning.

The speeders were all fined $20 each by Police Judges Mortimer Smith and George Samuel. Other offenders received fines of $1 and up. In some instances judgment was suspended when it was shown the offenders were not in court before.

Three Injured in Auto-Motor Crash

Three persons were treated for minor injuries in the Redwood Hospital last night as the result of a collision of a motorcycle and an automobile at High street and Foothill boulevard.

Homor Fortini, 2511 Peralta street; Charles Tiet, 1635 Maple avenue, and Velma Barrat were the persons injured when the motorcycle, driven by Fortini, collided with a roadster driven by James L. Nappin, 2321 Coliseum avenue.

Police Inspectors Richard McSauris and William Kyle investigated the accident.

Woman Burned As Percolator Explodes

Explosion of a percolator resulted in severe burns early today for Mrs. Frank Traversy, of 1809 Pearl street, Alameda. She was taken to the Oakland emergency hospital, where she was treated by Dr. H. C. Crum.

Mrs. Traversy said she was using a coffee substitute in preparing breakfast and could not explain the explosion.

8000 READY FOR WORK IN SHIPYARDS

Reopening of Big Bay Plants
Soon After Wednesday is Declared Possible by the Registration of the Workers

With the total registration of employees in bay shipyards up to noon placed at 7791 for all but two of the shipyards, prospects were considered bright today for a reopening of the yards soon after next Wednesday as planned.

Displacement of contracts and other results of the strike, it is declared, renders it possible to open the yards with the supply of men that is now in sight.

Registration reopened this morning with 7157. The Sunday record of enrollments was 585, which was expected to be more than equalled before tonight. According to Frank B. Drake, president of the California Retail Trades Association, the men registering are thus classified: Mechanics, 3232; helpers 3525; laborers, 400. The registration of the Hanlon only 2676 workers have registered.

First White Boy Born in Capital Is Dead, Age 71

Daniel W. Whepley, the first white person born in Sacramento, and the first president of California No. 1, Parlor Native Sons of the Golden West, is dead at his home in this city. Whepley was born in 1848, his parents having come from Kentucky to seek their fortunes in the new west. From the founding of the Native Sons of the Golden West, he was a prominent figure. The body will be sent to Sacramento for burial.

While Drake declined to state just when the yards would be reopened, he declared it would be soon after Wednesday, November 19, which is the date set for concluding registrations.

Secretary Frank C. Miller of the Bay Cities Metal Trades Council declared the metal workers will continue to "stand pat." The council will consider resolutions tonight for a special meeting of its delegates and committees together with committees of ten each from the 23 involved unions.

A contrary report was issued today by Frank Miller, secretary of the Iron Trades Council, who stated that only 2676 workers have registered.

ALASKANS MAY BAR OAKLAND FISHING CRAFT

Thirty-five hundred men living in Alameda county will be affected by the proposed legislation to regulate the salmon industry of Alaska. Delegate George Grigsby of Alaska, is framing a bill which provides that the industry be administered by officials in Alaska instead of from Washington.

Grigsby points out that the salmon are fast disappearing from Alaska waters. This year's catch was only about 40 per cent of the 1918 catch. The fleet operating out of the Golden Gate brought home 738,753 cases and 5737 barrels of salmon, the 1918 catch being two and a half times as large.

This local fleet is manned by 5,700 men, most of whom make their home in Alameda county. If the proposed legislation becomes effective a large part of these men may move their homes to the north as it is the intention of the delegate from Alaska to localize the industry so as to divert all the taxes to the Alaska treasury.

The bill will be introduced at the next session of Congress.

NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

It is a mistake to continually dose yourself with so-called laxative pills, cathartics, oil, purges and cathartics and force bowel action. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that daily purging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so. NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as the eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

Kansas Could Whip Leonard, Says Grupp

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Bully Grupp, whose gymnasium has been the training quarters of the great American wrestler, today declared emphatically waxed enthusiastically today about the possibilities of Rocky Kansas of Buffalo succeeding Benny Leonard as the world champion.

After having several rounds with the rugged Kansas, Grupp declared that he was confident the great American wrestler would be able to win for the championship's title, and estimated that Benjie was "in form" for such a fight as he ever meets Kansas at 125 pounds.

Leonard expressed a willingness to meet Kansas but held out for catchweights.

him, not allowing a hit to SCHULZ. HITS HENRI. The rally for the Automobile Merchants was Sig Wagon, the modest rich man. With one out, the pitcher in the seventh, Jack Foster was safe on an error. Allen and the pitcher, Morley, Dras, who had hit three hits for the day, planted out a single that scored Foster. Next came a single for a homer, the ball bouncing against the boards in right field. After holding the Orpheums in check in the eighth, Bobby Foster took a pitch, threw a home to win his own game. Vonah followed with a single, and Allen, who had been the man to get the home run and sent Foster on the mound. Jack Foster forced on another homer, the pitcher, Morley, who had out, but Dras had third time to get out of his jam and he did so. Dras hit the homer and the crowd

What Is Rheumatism? Why Suffer From It?

Sufferers Should Realize That It Is a Blood Infection and Can Be Permanently Relieved.

Rheumatism means that the blood has become saturated with uric acid poison.

It does not require medical advice to know that good health is absolutely dependent upon pure blood. When the muscles and joints become sore and drawn with rheumatism, it is not a wise thing to take a little salve and by rubbing it on the sore spot expect to get rid of your rheumatism. You must go deeper than that, down deep into the blood where the poison lurks, and which is not affected by salves and ointments. It is important that you rid yourself of this terrible disease before it goes too far. S. S. S. is the blood cleanser that has stood the test of time, having been in constant use for more than fifty years. It will do for you what it has done for thousands of others. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable. It will do the work and not harm the most delicate stomach.

Western League to Hold Meeting Today

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Club owners of the Western League met here today in annual session, to consider the question of a circuit for the 1920 season, elect officers and to settle the affairs of the season just closed.

The 1918 season was one of the most prosperous in the history of the league, President Tierney said.

the best in the East, there is no Western choice being unanimously acclaimed now that the Washington State eleven went down to a defeat. The question still remains, who will oppose who in the big game of the year?

Of more immediate importance comes to mind the Stanford-Culifornia conflict, now but five days off. Both teams are finishing up the hard work that they have been going through in preparation for the final struggle, and this week will find them resting on some light work prior to the game next Saturday. It remains an even money bet on the face of things. The California team has been through a much tougher season than have their Cardinal rivals, but the big day will find them

Cigarettes

CAMEL CIGARETTES win smokers from the start because the expertly blended choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos make possible Camel's delightful mellow-mildness with that all-there "body."

Camels meet your fondest cigarette fancies in so many ways. Their flavor is unusual and refreshing; and, they permit you to smoke as long as you will without any unpleasant cigarettey aftertaste or unpleasant cigarettey odor.

You'll find Camels good all the way through. It is a fact, you'll prefer Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos to either kind of tobacco smoked straight. And, Camels may be smoked liberally without tiring your taste.

To know Camels best compare them in every possible test with any cigarette in the world at any price!

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 10, 20, 40 and 50 cigarette packs (GPO) in cartons, in a glassine cigarette-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

WOMAN HALED BEFORE BARON FRAUD CHARGE

Flourence W. Bliss who is charged with obtaining $1,000,000 in cash from the estate of a deceased woman, was haled before Judge A. P. St. Sure in the superior court.

According to the information filed against Mrs. Bliss, she represented to the estate that she owned $1,000,000 worth of property in New York City, had ten sections of fruit lands, two hotels, seventeen granaries and a cotton engine valued at $17,500 in Alberta, Canada, besides the mine and $3,700 cash in the Central National Bank.

All of these claims were only a figment of the imagination, and fraudulent, it is claimed, and that in fact she did not have any money in the bank or own any of the property claimed. Of the case, she claimed was in the bank, $75,000 she represented to be from the estate of Margaret McIntyre. This estate, it is claimed, is actually worth less than $1000 and in a suit now pending in the probate court it is alleged that Mrs. Bliss obtained the estate by fraud, using force and playing Mrs. McIntyre with liquor in order to get her to sign a will leaving the property to her.

Landsdale superintendent of the mine and obtained the loan of $300 from him on January 1. It is alleged, but after going to Nevada, Landsdale discovered that she had no interest in the mine whatever.

The jury is being selected today and Landsdale will be the first witness for the prosecution, which is being conducted by Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay and Myron Harris.

Girl Called "Yellow" Admits Robbing Shop Defends Man Companion Who Rescued Her

Alameda Woman Identifies Dress Stolen From Her and Trails Couple to Restaurant. Where Arrests Are Made

MISS IRENE JOHNSON, companion of ex-convict, who held up, bound and robbed Richmond photographer and whose arrest was caused by Alameda woman from whom she is said to have stolen the dress she was wearing when arrested.

She wouldn't be called "yellow." The man she loved should learn that she was not a traitor. Irene Johnson, age 23, took a revolver entered the photographic shop of Virgil Reed in Richmond, bound, gagged and robbed him of $350. When she was arrested, she was wearing a dress she had stolen from her companion, Mrs. Manuel Brown, of 645 Haight street, Alameda, on November 9.

The police were notified and followed the pair to a rooming house where they were put under arrest. The man, who gave the name of Bert Garrett, is declared by the police to be a former convict, escaped from the Sacramento county jail and with a previous record in the San Quentin penitentiary.

BIRD REVEALS IDENTITY.
They were "tied up" with the Richmond hold-up as soon as Inspector Lou Ames saw the little metal bird on the girl's hat. That fitted the description sent out by the photographer. Although he said he was so excited he could not tell whether she be short-haired blonde or brunette he remembered the bird upon the hat.

From the Oakland jail the two were taken to Alameda jail yesterday, where they will answer the charge made by Mrs. Brown.

"Bert may have been a convict I never knew it before. But just since he's been a prince of a guy to me," said Miss Johnson, a strikingly pretty girl.

"Why, he saved me from an opium den and from being sold to a Chinese. That was two years ago, in Oakland. I was on the streets then, with a road company. I met a rich fellow and he turned out to be a drug fiend. He got me to using it a little at first. And then they framed the deal to sell me to a Chin. He was the fellow who ran the opium den."

ROMANCE IS SHATTERED.
"Bert" was the man selected to take me to the den. He fell in love with me, though, and we ran away to Sacramento. This arrest stops our plans to get married."

Then Bert asked me a few days ago to do a job. I refused. He told me I was "yellow." Mexicans are yellow. I saw them when my father once took me to Mexico. I wouldn't be yellow, so I beat Bert to the place he was going to rob and pulled the job and he met me when I left. He praised me and said: "Sweetie, you're a peach," so I thought every thing was all right.

The girl says her father is in San Jose and will come to her rescue. A few years ago, she said she was married to an Oregon business man. His agency she will not reveal.

PAIR HELD IN ALAMEDA.
ALAMEDA, Nov. 17.—Irene Johnson, age 23, self-confessed hold-up, and her alleged ex-convict companion, Bert Garrett, spent last night in the Alameda city prison, following the arrest of the couple in Oakland yesterday morning by Inspectors John Gannay and Alexander Sheriff on complaint of Mrs. Bessie Brown of this city, who claims that the Johnson girl stole $500 of wearing apparel from the Brown home at 645 Haight avenue, West Alameda. The couple are accused of stealing a tan dress, a pair of shoes, bedding, aprons, underwear, table centerpieces, odds and ends of jewelry, shirtwaists, razors and other loot from the Brown home.

Garrett is alleged to be a two-time convict and has served terms for burglary and theft in both San Quentin and Folsom. The girl claims that she was induced to take drugs by a man she met in Oakland two years ago while she was a member of a traveling show. She was given drugs and says that she was to have been taken into a house of ill-fame, Garrett being the man summoned to make the removal from the hotel to the red-light establishment. The girl declares that Garrett, instead of carrying out his part of the scheme, took her to Sacramento instead.

The young woman says that she couldn't stand being called "yellow" because she was used to riding horses, using a gun and roping cattle.

It was because of the Brown robbery in this city that the prisoners were turned over to the Alameda police. They will probably be later given to the Richmond authorities for prosecution on the greater charge of robbery.

The girl's companion, Garrett, is 27 years of age. He is said to have been confined in Folsom for a year for a San Francisco burglary, and in San Quentin three years for burglary, and also went to the reform school at Folsom earlier and is now wanted by the Sacramento police for escaping from the Sacramento city prison while being held on still another charge of burglary.

MORSE TELLS LEGION SMITH NOT DESIRED

Declaring that Commissioner of Public Health and Safety E. F. Morse had ignored requests for the reinstatement of Dr. Kirby Smith, former city health officer, who recently returned from service in the United States Army, and charging that the city is apparently paying off its former service men in worthless checks, a delegation representing the Oakland Post of the American Legion appeared before the city council this morning and demanded that the city keep its promise to ex-service men and immediately reinstate Dr. Smith.

Colonel Ralph J. Faneuf, former commanding officer of the 133d Field Artillery of California, represented the delegation as spokesman and notified the council that Commissioner Morse had been requested to reinstate Dr. Smith and that one request had been denied and further appeals ignored. Resolutions passed by the council during the war, putting the city officials on record as favoring the return of ex-service men in the city's employ to their positions when they returned from service and urging business men and employers to follow a similar policy, were read to the council by Colonel Faneuf and other members of the American Legion delegation.

Donald McClure and W. B. Moyle, members of the Legion committee, addressed the council, and after the Legion's request was read, Commissioner Morse declared that he would not reinstate Dr. Smith while he is in office and that as far as he is concerned the issue is closed. After a lengthy discussion of the situation the committee was advised by Commissioner of Revenue and Finance W. H. Edwards, acting as chairman of the council in the absence of Mayor John L. Davis, to take the case up further with Commissioner Morse.

The Legion delegation also presented an informal request for the re-establishment of a legal bureau in the office of the city attorney, for the assistance of former service men and their widows and orphans in legal tangles concerning insurance and Liberty Bonds. Commissioner Morse promised a report on the request.

CENT JUMP IN SUGAR PRICES DUE THIS WEEK

Sugar will probably jump one cent a pound in Oakland before the end of this week, according to predictions of leading retailers this morning. This action, will be made necessary because of the exhaustion of the Hawaiian cane sugar crop, making consumers in northern and central California dependent on the best sugar crop.

The Pacific Coast office of the Sugar Equalization Board stated that a price of 10 cents a pound for beet sugar at the factory became effective yesterday. This is an advance of one cent a pound over the price at which refiners sold cane sugar and makes a retail figure of 12 cents possible. Wholesalers will be allowed a profit of one-half cent a pound while the retailers will make a profit of one and a half cents.

The abnormal consumption of sugar is given as the cause of this latest advance in living costs. Hoarding has not been responsible for the depletion of the marketable stocks, according to members of the board.

Retailers purchasing beet sugar at the new price will be permitted to add the additional cent a pound on old stocks this is not permissible and a department of dealers will be asked to prosecute dealers adding the raise to their old stocks. This applies as well to cane sugar, the price of which has been fixed until January 1 at 11 cents.

During the past thirty days thirty-six million pounds of sugar, enough to give every person seven pounds, was distributed in northern California, Washington and Oregon. This is three times the per capita allowance made to the people of the United States during the war. The board stated yesterday that it had saved households $300,000 during the last three weeks by not permitting any but low priced beet and cane sugar to be sold on the Pacific coast. Owing to the depleted stocks retailers will probably be forced to raise their prices immediately as they will have to rely on the new beet crop for their stocks before the week is over.

Heavy Rains Are Coming in From Sea, Say Mariners

Shipping men are anticipating the arrival of a wet spell. Incoming vessels report passing through heavy rains and say that the storm area is approaching the coast. The weather out at sea is reported unsettled all the way from Cape Henry to Southern California. The wind at North Heads, just outside of the Golden Gate, attained forty miles an hour last night, causing a rough sea. At Tatoosh, at the entrance to Puget Sound, the velocity was twenty-three miles an hour, with a rough water.

FATHER SEEKS MISSING GIRL

J. E. Armistead, 5592 Lawton avenue, today appealed to the Oakland police to recover his fourteen-year-old daughter, Clare Armistead, who strangely disappeared yesterday afternoon. No intimation of her destination was given by the girl when she left, her absence being discovered at nightfall by the parents. She is described as five feet, four inches high, 130 pounds, brown hair, brownish gray eyes and fair complexion. She was attired in a greenish gray suit, with blue stripes, and wore brown shoes.

A description of the girl was flashed to all police districts in the bay section. Believed to have contracted a mania for running away, Ethel Franz, 23, wife of Mike Franz, 32 Eighth street, has disappeared for the third time. Franz could not account for his wife's absence. Her description is as follows: Height 5 feet, 105 pounds, light brown hair, blue eyes, medium complexion. Blue skirt, blue cape and yellow waist.
